

BACK TO ITS BOARD.

Judge Pardee Restores the Central to the Directors.

NO PERMANENT RECEIVER APPOINTED.

Don Rountree's Petition Denied by the Court.

HEADQUARTERS WILL BE MOVED.

The Transfer Will Probably Be Completed Tonight—Good Luck Wished it by the R. and D.

At the close of the argument in the Central railroad case at Macon yesterday, Judge Don Pardee announced that he would refuse the application for a permanent receiver.

This morning he will sign an order returning the properties of the company to its board of directors.

And this will be a fortunate solution of the complicated question.

The court proposes to see the company reorganized by the voting power of those who in its opinion hold their stock legally and shut out the stock which in the mind of the court is held illegally. That is the $2,000,000 shares held by the Richmond Terminal will be enjoined from voting at the election which the court will order to be held at an early date. The majority might ask for an injunction to restrain the minority from voting for the present, but it is said on good authority that the Terminal will not do that.

As soon as the decision of the court was made, telegrams were sent to the general officers of the Richmond and Danville here and to Mr. Edward McIntyre, who was appointed controller for the Central by the temporary receiver, General Alexander. Mr. McIntyre called the Central clerks in the auditing department together at 6 o'clock and put them on notice that preparations would begin today for removal back to Savannah.

There are about seventy-five men in the accounting department who were brought up from Savannah. These were informed that they could retain their places with the Central if they chose to return to Savannah. Some branches of the clerical force will leave tonight. The rest have to go from day to day. A few will have to remain for several days.

Mr. McIntyre said last night that the accounting department can be reorganized in Savannah within a few days. Its force will be quartered in the old office building at West Broad and Perry streets, Savannah. That building has been unoccupied since the removal of headquarters to Atlanta last summer.

Mr. Milo Freeman, formerly auditor of the Central, will superintend the transfer and he will remain here until the last go.

THEIR NO EX-GRATIA.

Captain William H. Green, general manager of the Richmond and Danville, stated yesterday afternoon that there will be no friction at all in completing the divorce which the court has decreed. The separation will be made smoothly and promptly. He thought it would be much better if the accounts were kept jointly until Thursday night. Then each company can start in afresh on a new month. Two statements have to be made for March, one covering the joint operation of the Central and the Danville by the latter up to March 4th, and the other of the Central's earnings from the appointment of the temporary receiver, March 4th, up to today. If a third is required for the last three days of the month it will pile up work on the clerical force and cause some confusion. Captain Green made the suggestion in the interest of simplifying the separation.

"There will be no difficulty about reorganizing the Central's operating and traffic departments," he said.

"General Superintendent McBeck can keep everything running nicely in his department. It has been a traffic department under Major Whitehead and it has a controller and an auditor."

"Will the Richmond and Danville call for its engines and cars?" Captain Green was asked.

"Not at once," the general manager answered. "The Central has several hundred Danville freight cars on its lines and a great many of its cars are off on other lines. The Richmond and Danville has seven of the Central's passenger coaches on the Carolina system and the Central is using seven Georgia Pacific coaches. The Central will get back all its rolling stock and send back the cars of the other roads."

"This is a happy ending, it seems to me," said Captain Green, "of the dispute. We are not sorry to lose the Central and we wish it good luck and plenty of it."

Not Many Changes.

Not many changes are expected in the Central until the permanent directors are elected and they set to work reorganizing the whole system.

It is suggested that, eventually, there will be a new president. Then there will be a general manager probably. The old Central had a traffic manager, a general freight and a general passenger agent. Instead of these three there may be but two in the interests of economy. Here in Atlanta where the Richmond and Danville and the Central have joint employees, there will be separate ones for each road. There will be a freight agent and assistants and perhaps the old ticket office will be restored.

The Richmond and Danville will likely need a few new clerks, but the change in the Kiser building will consist chiefly of the withdrawal of the old Central force.

GENERAL ALEXANDER RESIGNS.

And Mr. H. M. Comer Elected to Fill the Vacancy.

Macon, Ga., March 28.—(Special.)—After the court adjourned the board of directors of the Central railroad met, a full board being present. General E. P. Alexander, president, tendered his resignation. Mr. H. M. Comer, of Savannah, was elected as director to fill the vacancy caused by the failure of General Sorrell to qualify.

General Alexander's resignation having been accepted, Mr. Comer was nominated to fill the vacancy of the president of the board and was immediately elected.

The election of Mr. Comer is well received. He is one of the ablest financiers in the state and it is understood that his election was in accordance with the wishes of a large number of the creditors of the road. It is understood that the changes of the company will greatly enhance the value of the stock.

Active steps will be taken at once to put on foot a plan to take the road out of the hands of the receivers and put it on a solid financial basis.

Other changes will probably be made on the board and a much more cheerful outlook is shown already for Central securities.

Judge Pardee will leave on the early train for Atlanta, and it is believed that he will place to his home in New Orleans. Mr. Beaman, who represents the Speyer loan and several other large creditors of the Central, and Mr. Davies, who represents the New York Central, will leave on the early morning train for Atlanta and will there take the vestibule train for New York.

THE TERMINAL'S TROUBLES.

General Thomas Feels That He Was Slighted by the Committee.

New York, March 28.—Rumors of trouble in regard to the Richmond Terminal system again current today in Wall street. It was generally so wild, that Justice Duffy sent him to Bellevue for medical examination. The doctors pronounced him perfectly sane. He was sent back to the Tombs prison to await news from Georgia.

The Sheriff and the Prisoner.

News in the shape of Sheriff Collier arrived today. As soon as the sheriff saw Farmer he ran forward and grasped him by the hand.

"Hello, Zan," he cried, "I'm right glad to see you; seems to me you must have done a right smart lot of wandering for a long time back."

Zan smiled broadly. "That's so," he said, "but I'm a-going back now to stand my trial. I ain't guilty, and I want all the folks to know it. I'm powerfully sick of wanderin' around."

Sheriff Collier, Detective Reap and young Farmer started for the district attorney's office at once. They will leave for Georgia tomorrow night.

THE STORY OF THE CRIME.

This is the story of the murder of Ira Drake as it was told by Sheriff Collier this morning: The murder was committed on Sunday night, May 10, 1892, on the road about two miles from the village of Nicholson. On that night a young man, who was a mile from the Farmer homestead, about 10 o'clock the meeting broke up. Zan Farmer asked Dora McElhammer if he might see her home, and she said she would go with him. They walked down the road and she was a little way down the road he fell in with a lot of young fellows who had also been to the singing school. Bob Farmer's brother, was among them, and Joe Henry, Tom Shannon, Moore, and several others. They were all drunk and were in a bad way. They reached the McElhammer house and stood chatting on the doorstep for a moment. Dora began to yawn presently, and said she was going to bed. Zan Farmer took the hint and started for home, leaving Drake and Dora's cousin whispering on the porch. When Farmer had gone a little way down the road he fell in with a lot of young fellows who had also been to the singing school. Bob Farmer's brother, was among them, and Joe Henry, Tom Shannon, Moore, and several others. They were all drunk and were in a bad way. They reached the McElhammer house and stood chatting on the doorstep for a moment. Dora began to yawn presently, and said she was going to bed. Zan Farmer took the hint and started for home, leaving Drake and Dora's cousin whispering on the porch.

Later in the day she was seen in a carriage that dashed rapidly out. Penitence. It was but a few minutes before the time that the Richmond and Danville passed Ponce de Leon springs, and it was for a while believed that she boarded the train there.

But it was all a ruse and the detectives, soon ascertained as much.

Telegrams were at once sent in all directions to apprehend the woman, but later all efforts were directed toward finding the woman in the city. The officers found her on which they worked, and it all turned out to the niece of satisfaction.

Yesterday Deputy Sheriff Green, with Detectives Cason, Loney, and Anderson, went to a small negro hut, back of Mount Zion church. It was the residence of Fannie Harper. Day after day of extra searching had led to her finding the much wanted woman there.

Never was there, however, a more disappointed force of officers. "Dora" was not there. She had been at the place, but had left several hours before the officers came.

She had learned of the additional charge against her of concealing stolen goods and a further chance in the link of evidence in the arson case, and immediately changed her whereabouts.

But about 10 o'clock, when she was traced to Currier street, near Blackburn, at the house of Ella Pless. The moment officers approached the place those within hurried the doors and windows and refused them admittance.

This confirmed the belief that the woman was there and a careful watch was kept. Directly a rear door was opened and some one quietly slipped out and started through the yard. Quickly hands were laid upon her and she was taken to the "Dutch" Annie was a prisoner.

She was brought to police headquarters, where she was locked up for the night. To-day she will be sent to Fulton county jail to await trial on the two very serious charges against her.

The woman stated at the station house that she had left the city, but stole back last Saturday. The woman, Fannie Harper, denies that. Annie Searcy certainly has a bitter fight before her.

She has employed Mr. Will Myers to represent her.

SEVEN MEN ARE HERE.

The Games Were Played for the Others.

Atlanta was the scene of a game of memory game, the cunning pitcher. Green has been signed by the police. Those who saw that same cunning pitcher will quickly recall his safe, graceful catches.

Schoel, too, comes to Atlanta.

Gagen and Schabel made beyond a doubt the best battery the south has seen in a long time, and in securing them Atlanta's manager has done a great day's work.

But neither end of the battery can be in Atlanta before the 6th of next month. Both are now playing a show at the Richmond, Ky., and as soon as that is done they will leave for Atlanta. The battery became favorites in Atlanta during its three days' stay, and every one will be glad to see it back again.

Ward's men from Brooklyn will be here today at 2 o'clock. There will be no game this afternoon.

The first game will be played tomorrow. The heavy, hard rain of the week prevented the road to Jefferson led past the Farmer homestead. Zan's old grandmother, step-mother and all her children stood on the doorstep as the carriage drove up. All of them were crying bitterly. Zan's grandmother tottered down steps and begged the deputy sheriff to let her kiss her boy before he took him away. The sheriff was touched, and told her that she might do so, but before this day's work ends it will be in good shape.

Of the nine men Mackay now has signed seven in Atlanta. They are Campbell, Bennett, Beach, Berryhill, Bowser, Long and Hill. Every one of the crowd, too, makes a good showing.

NOW THEY'LL MARCH.

The gallant Grady Cadets are on their feet again and ready to "march to the roll of the drum."

And every citizen of Atlanta will hail the news with gratification, pride and delight.

Last night's meeting of the Cadets brought many of them together once more in happy reunion, and the meeting was entered fully into the spirit of the meeting, with a heartier zest than ever before characterized the deliberations of this popular company of Georgia soldiers.

The meeting was held in the company's armory on Marietta street, and was called to order at 8 o'clock by Sergeant T. L. Hardin. Mr. Heidt was at the secretary's desk.

The chief purpose of the meeting was to discuss the action of the committee appointed at the last meeting to elect officers in place of those whose resignations were accepted this morning.

The committee reported, as has already been outlined in advance by "The Constitution," that the committee had received a letter from the committee of the Richmond and Danville, dated at 12:20 o'clock, the construction of which was loaded down with men, timber and iron, pulled into Rome. Superintendent Dill came in the Chickamauga, his private car. Work began immediately, and when daylight broke this morning the company, which has been in session for several days, breathed easy once again.

Enthusiasm Ruled the Hour.

Then there were some enthusiastic displays of genuine eloquence—some free-for-all speech making being indulged in by the meeting.

The following members made speeches expressive of their exultant joy at this happy reorganization, and pledging anew their faith and loyalty to the company's colors.

Messrs. R. H. Manley, T. L. Hardin, J. A. Bass, H. W. Young and J. O. Hamilton. Every speech was loudly cheered, and to judge of the enthusiasm, the sound of the drums, it was too obvious that a grand revival was there.

Resolutions of Regret.

The following resolutions of regret were adopted by a unanimous vote.

Whereas, Captain Lyman Hall and Lieutenants Albert Howell, Frank Orme and G. B. White, who have been identified with that of the Grady Cadets since the organization was formed, and whose instant and earnest efforts the very essence of the command is due, have died, and to judge of the enthusiasm, the sound of the drums, it was too obvious that a grand revival was there.

BACK TO GEORGIA.

Sheriff Benjamin Howell Collier, of Jackson County,

GOES TO NEW YORK FOR HIS PRISONER.

Farmer in the Hands of the Georgia Sheriff.

THE STORY OF THE MURDER TOLD.

The Victim Waylaid at Night by Jokers The Escape of the Prisoners.

New York, March 28.—(Special.)—Benjamin Howell Collier, sheriff of Jackson county, Ga., walked into the Tombs police court this morning accompanied by Detective Reap, of police headquarters. He was formally introduced to Justice Duffy. He lost no time in explaining his business.

"Your honor," he said, "I hear you've got young Zan Farmer up here; I've come to get and take him home to answer the charge of murder."

The First Appearance of Farmer.

A week ago last Saturday night, a young man walked into the Lexington street police station house, and said that he wanted to be sent back to Jefferson Ga., to stand his trial for the murder of a young boy of the name of Ira Drake.

He said he was innocent of the murder, but he wanted to be sent back there in order that he might be cleared. He gave his name as James Alexander Farmer, of Jackson county, Ga. He talked in such an extraordinary manner, and his appearance was generally so wild, that Justice Duffy sent him to Bellevue for medical examination. The doctors pronounced him perfectly sane. He was sent back to the Tombs prison to await news from Georgia.

THE PRESIDENT SATISFIED.

With the Tone of Lord Salisbury's Letter of the 30th.

Washington, March 28.—It is said on good authority that the president is well pleased with the conciliatory tone of Lord Salisbury's note of the 26th instant, especially as it has been pointed out that it has been the principal cause of contention, viz., the removal of the modus vivendi of last year for the protection of the seal fisheries.

This alleged contention is believed to be implied in his proposition to agree to a modus, in case the treaty of arbitration is ratified and

LIVING WATERS.

The Sufferer Drinks and Is Restored to Health.

BUFFALO LITHIA SPRINGS, VIRGINIA

These Remarkable Waters Have Cured Some Desperate Diseases—They Are Fountains of Youth.

Buffalo Lithia Springs, Va., March 27.—(Special Correspondence.)—Everybody in this neighborhood is a strong believer in the virtue of Buffalo Lithia Springs.

The people for miles around are convinced that the waters are a panacea for all the diseases to which human flesh is heir.

If your nerves are shattered and you are out of sorts generally and have no appetite, every one of them will tell you that the water of spring No. 1 will put you all right in a day or two.

In cases of gout, rheumatism, gravel and the worst forms of kidney disease they point to No. 2 and declare that its water is an infallible cure.

There is hardly a family in ten miles of the springs that does not send here almost daily for water. This they get without money and without price, except when shipments from No. 2 are so scarce that they are charged for it.

I notice, too, that the women and children are healthier here than in any other section I have visited.

Buffalo Lithia waters are a known agent of wonderful cures in all the female diseases and the disorders of teething infants. This, therefore, accounts for the fact. It is very rare that a sick child, brought here for treatment, is not either greatly benefited or completely cured.

It is the same with sickly females. There is a tonic and sanative effect about the waters that unsatisfactory and builds up the system at once.

Dr. William T. Howard, professor of diseases of women and children in the University of Maryland, referring to the water, compares Buffalo Lithia with a very celebrated water and adds:

"Indeed, in a certain class of cases, it is much superior to any other water in the world, and its use is a valuable aid to the abiding debility attendant upon the tardy convalescence from acute diseases, and more especially to the cachectic and anæmic conditions, to which women are so liable in all their grades and varieties, to certain forms of atonic dyspepsia and all the affections peculiar to women that are remediable at all by mineral waters."

In short, we called upon to state from what mineral waters I have seen the greatest and most numerous cures, and I can give you in the largest number of cases in a general way, I would unhesitatingly say the Buffalo springs, in Mecklenburg county, Virginia.

This is only one selected from three or four hundred certificates given by the leading physicians of the country with reference to the efficacy of Buffalo Lithia waters in the treatment of a wide range of diseases. So conscientious is Colonel Goode, the owner of the springs, that he has never sought to advertise the waters except through testimonials from the medical profession. Of all professions in the world this is the most honorable and the most difficult to secure.

Physicians rarely endorse a remedial agent unless its merits are fully substantiated, and in securing an array of eminent signatures over most unequalled recommendations of Buffalo Lithia waters, Colonel Goode has shown a wisdom and a wisdom that is commendable.

Some testimony is inexpressible and cannot be taken into the confidence of the public at large. In my letter yesterday I made incidental mention of a very remarkable case of stone in the bladder of which Governor Thomas H. Holt, of North Carolina, was cured by the water of spring No. 2. This is only one instance of many probably a hundred others in which there were similar results.

It is claimed that the water of No. 2 will dissolve any stone of urinary formation where the action of the water is unobstructed. As a test of this property in this particular, stones of calcium phosphate, which have been placed in vessels containing the water and after a certain length of time they were dissolved.

Dr. E. C. Laird, the resident physician at the springs, has in his possession a photograph showing the exact size of several particles of calcium phosphate, which were dissolved by the water of spring No. 2. He charged by a patient while under treatment at the springs. Some of these fragments are as large as a pea and weighed altogether two ounces and two-eighths grains.

Dr. Halstead Boydland, doctor of medicine of the faculty of Paris, formerly professor in the Baltimore Medical college, and also the chief of the medical staff of Buffalo Lithia Springs, reports a case equally as extraordinary. He says:

"The case of Mr. C., who came under my observation as a patient, was one of the springs during the season of 1884, affords undoubted evidence that Buffalo Lithia water is a solvent for urinary deposit, commonly known as stone in the bladder. He was operated upon for stone, the operation affording but partial and temporary relief. A second operation, performed at the Buffalo Lithia Springs, at the time passing small quantities of a urinary deposit, of the triple phosphate of ammonia and magnesia variety, and his suffering such as required that he should be kept constantly under the influence of opiates. In some eight weeks, the solvent properties of the water were so manifestly demonstrated by the increased consistency of the deposit, and by its change from a coarse lumpy to fine sand, which he discharged to the amount of four ounces. After a time, however, the quantity gradually diminished, and finally ceased, and he left the springs with the stone dissolved. He has since been free from the disease, and the diathesis fons et origo morbi thereof. There had been a disappearance of the attending symptoms, and a great improvement in his general condition."

So many diseases originate from a derangement of the nervous system, or in their ravages demoralize the nerves, that in treatment of any specific trouble, the waters of spring No. 1 and spring No. 2 are used in conjunction. For instance, while drinking No. 2 to remove gout, rheumatism or gravel, you would also drink No. 1 to strengthen your nervous system and build up appetite. The water from No. 3, which is heavily charged with iron, is also called upon in conjunction. For instance, while drinking material in which it is deficient and corrects nervous troubles due specifically to an impoverished condition of the blood.

The power of these waters as an aphrodisiac is well known. Sometimes you may have to wait. The troubles that have been years in gathering can't always be cleared. For all the diseases and disorders peculiar to women, the water of spring No. 2 is a most valuable remedy. For the diseases and disorders peculiar to men, the water of spring No. 1 is a most valuable remedy.

Prescription is the surest and speediest remedy. You can depend upon the fact that your case is obstinate, give it reasonable time.

It is an invigorating, restorative tonic, a soothing and strengthening nerve and a positive specific for female weaknesses and ailments. All functional disturbances, pain, irregularities and derangements are corrected and cured by it. All unnatural discharges, bearing-down sensations, weak back, accompanied with faint spells and kindred symptoms, are corrected. In every case in which it is recommended, "Favorite Prescription" is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or the money is refunded. No other medicine for women is sold on such terms. That proves that nothing else offered by the dealer is "just as good."

inc has been notably demonstrated. There is no question but No. 1 acts as a direct stimulant to the uterus.

The waters are also claimed to be a certain cure for eczema and all skin diseases which result from indigestion and blood poison. To a person debilitated by a long and imprudent use of medicines, the waters will be found a wonderful recuperative agency. In fact, it would be hard to mention a disease that these waters will not cure unless it is consumption, and even that will cure that.

SAVED FROM LYNCHERS.

Albert Chester Removed from the Greene County Jail.

Greensboro, Ga., March 28.—(Special.)—Albert Chester, the negro murderer, a account of whose crime was in the Constitution this week, was carried to Madison last night to prevent his being lynched.

Ever since the murder was committed, the indignation and excitement in the neighborhood have increased, and threats have been open and numerous that speedy vengeance would be meted out. At this time Chester was in the Greene County Jail, and it was presumed that the people would allow the law to take its course.

Last night about 10 o'clock, however, when Dr. W. E. Adams returned home, he found under his door a note signed "Citizens." The note was well written, showing that it had been the work of an intelligent man. Its contents briefly set forth that the citizens of the county, among them some of the best and most ardent friends of the law, wanted Chester and proposed to take him that night. They were outraged at the diabolical crime that had been committed, and they were determined to punish the criminal by the slow and uncertain methods of the law.

Dr. Adams at once notified Sheriff English of the contents of the note, and that he would be ready to make any arrangements to take him that night. They were outraged at the diabolical crime that had been committed, and they were determined to punish the criminal by the slow and uncertain methods of the law.

FORT HILL CEMETERY.

The Controversy Is Now Effectually Settled.

DIGGING UP OF CAPT. WOOLFOLK'S BODY.

A Strange Story Growing Out of a Dispute Over a Graveyard—General Macon News.

Macon, Ga., March 28.—(Special.)—The long and heated dispute over Fort Hill cemetery was effectually settled this morning. The house was located near the residence of Mr. E. D. Jones, and had the night at that time not been calm and everything damp from the rains, great damage would have been done. By hard and persistent work the adjacent houses were saved. The burning was unquestionably the work of an incendiary, who first rifled the house of furniture and goods and then set it on fire.

Some of the bedding and other furniture was thrown out of the house, and the house, showing that a wagon had been used to haul it away, and that the thief and incendiary, in his haste to get away, threw out of the house some of the things, including a wife were both away when the fire occurred, which gave the thief an excellent opportunity to get in his work. The whites and blacks are equally incensed over the arson, and every eye is being followed to catch the villain. He will be promptly and severely punished when caught.

A Satisfactory Written. Mr. Clay replied in a satisfactory and a fight between him and Ben L. Jones, of East Macon, resulted.

About this time the affidavit of Mr. Ben Weeks, of East Macon, was published, alleging that he had seen Mr. Clay bury a negro on top of old man Woolfolk's farm, secured permission from the Woolfolk family to dig up the body and ascertain the facts, and yesterday morning, with two physicians, newspaper reporters and a party of citizens, he went over to unearth the bodies.

The grave was pointed out by Mr. Weeks and men were put to work removing the dirt. About three feet in the surface a coffin was found, and it was found to contain the body of a dead negro, charged by Mr. Weeks to have been buried in the grave with Mr. Woolfolk.

The coffin was taken out and the earth removed to a depth of about seven feet, but no coffin was found, and it was found to contain the body of a dead negro, charged by Mr. Weeks to have been buried in the grave with Mr. Woolfolk.

An Incendiary's Work. Greensboro, Ga., March 28.—(Special.)—A fire broke out last night about 9 o'clock in the southern portion of the town, in a house occupied by Sterling Gentry, colored. A Previous Affair. About one year ago, Quarterman left his store on a fishing and hunting frolic, intending to return next day. Time passed, and Quarterman did not return. Days flew by, and his friends seriously alarmed, began to search for him, and offered rewards and scoured the country for his body, dead or alive.

His disappearance was the talk of the county, but one morning Quarterman returned. He told a remarkable story of his having boarded a train for home, and waking up the next morning at Waycross. Then, he said, his money gave out, and he decided to return to his home, but he was unable to find his way, and he was forced to stay in a small cabin, where he was treated with kindness and hospitality.

Here, tired and hungry, he tried to pawn his gun for money to reach home, but, failing, hired out and made enough money to pay fare to Pearson. As Quarterman

THE COFFEE TRAGEDY.

The Latest About the Disappearance of Quarterman.

ANOTHER THEORY IS ADVANCED.

It Seems That the Missing Man Is a Constitutional Joker, and Mystified the People Once Before.

Brunswick, Ga., March 28.—(Special.)—Parties from Coffee county, in Brunswick today, were interviewed by The Constitution's correspondent in regard to the mysterious disappearance of young Quarterman last week.

Several theories were advanced, one being that one or more parties, who had been vigorously prosecuted by Quarterman's brother, who is solicitor, had killed him by mistake for his brother, and to hide the deed from the public, had carried his body away. A few miles from the scene of the supposed murder, is a lime sink, and it is said that the bottom of it has never been found. If Quarterman's body has been thrown in that sink, no traces of him will ever be found again. But another theory is advanced, which, in view of Quarterman's former actions, seems plausible. It is that Quarterman has not been killed and spirited away, but, instead, his imagination and love for notoriety have led him to plan and execute a plot that will cause him to be talked of, in the meantime enjoying the sensation he has created, only to return later and give the details of his capture, abduction and detention by a band of outlaws.

“Don't Keep Them.”

“Don't Keep Them.”

“I do not keep them,” said the grocer when asked for Dr. Price's Delicious Flavoring Extracts, “but I can sell you another kind, at a less price, that will be equally as good.” Being an old customer, and having confidence in the grocer, the lady consented. The result when she used the Extract of Lemon was that the Ice Cream had the taste of turpentine, and when the cake was flavored with the Vanilla it had the strong, rank taste of the poisonous snuff bean. The extracts were not genuine, were made cheap so as to afford a better profit. You will never fail to find Dr. Price's Flavors on the shelves of every grocer who seeks to give satisfaction to his customers by recommending the purest and best articles.

RULES THE ROOST

For Irwin Says He Controls the Policy of the Alliance Organ.

WILL WHILE IT SUITS THE FARMERS

has become of the Committee Appointed by the State Alliance to Dictate the Paper's Policy?

Who controls the policy of the Southern Alliance Farmer?

And is it longer the organ of the state alliance?

These questions are pertinent and timely. They have been frequently asked recently in view of the tendency of that paper to ward third-party views.

About two issues ago, the paper came out on the third-party platform, and yesterday's issue was red hot, rampant and outspoken for the third party.

And not only that, but two columns of its last page were devoted to attempting to prove that Colonel Livingston had not only erred, but had betrayed the people.

Now, as a matter of fact, Colonel Livingston is one of the men into whose hands the policy of the paper was entrusted for direction.

Is it at all likely that he would direct the policy of the paper against himself?

No official action of the alliance has taken the policy of the paper from his hands.

Naturally, then, the question arises, who controls the paper's policy?

At the last meeting of the state alliance, which was held here in August, 1891, the organ of the Georgia alliance, Colonel Livingston, Hon. M. V. Calvin and Senator C. H. Ellington were appointed a committee to select an editor for the paper, and to dictate the policy of the paper.

This committee held several meetings, finally selecting Mr. T. L. Gantt as editor.

He then issued an address setting forth all the facts, and stating that the policy of the paper would be dictated by the committee in the interest of the state alliance. Editor Gantt, in an editorial, also stated this fact.

Editor Gantt was succeeded by Mr. M. D. Irwin, as editor, about three months ago.

Mr. Irwin is a son-in-law of Colonel Peck. He made the paper bright and readable, and the alliance of the state has been pleased.

When the paper finally planted itself on the third-party platform, those who were acquainted with the situation were surprised.

In a telling address at Covington, Colonel Livingston had declared his unflinching allegiance to the democracy.

In an interview published just after the St. Louis convention, Hon. M. V. Calvin had said that he was still a democrat.

These gentlemen, then, could control the policy of the Alliance Farmer over Senator Ellington, the other member, who was avowedly for the third party.

That's what the people thought.

But it seems they erred.

"I rule the roost," said Editor Irwin yesterday. "I control the policy of the Southern Alliance Farmer, and shall continue to do so."

How the paper became free from the hands of Colonel Livingston and Mr. Calvin, he did not explain.

Mr. Irwin, Mr. Calvin and myself were appointed to dictate the paper's policy. I am perfectly satisfied with the present policy of the paper. I cannot see why Mr. Calvin and Colonel Livingston have failed to enter a protest, as it is not going their way."

A horse belonging to Miller & Brady took flight near the corner of Peachtree and Wall streets yesterday evening. The animal dashed down Wall street, carrying the buggy with him.

Near Pryor the team knocked down Mr. J. M. Frierson and a moment later ran into and almost smashed a hack.

Frierson was very badly bruised and had to be taken to his home at 251 Peachtree street. A small boy was run over, but escaped unhurt.

A CASE AGAINST THE COMMISSIONER.
Captain D. G. Wylie Summoned to Appear Before the Recorder Today.

Commissioner D. G. Wylie, of the public works, will be arraigned before Recorder D. G. Wylie this morning.

He was summoned to appear by Call Officer Ivy yesterday afternoon. Failure to place lights on Cain street where the new waterworks pipe is being laid is the cause. Captain Joyner's attention was called to it a day or two ago, and he promptly took steps to have the matter remedied. It resulted in a case being made against Mr. Wylie yesterday.

It will be a case of the city versus the city.

THE BAPTISTS MEET.
The Stone Mountain Sunday School Association Meets.

FOR THE CHILDREN.

Me little girl suffered for three years from a large Abscess on her hip, the result of a fall and dislocation. The Abscess was large, with six openings, all of which discharged puss. I was induced by friends to give her S. S. S., and by the time the fifth bottle was finished the Abscess was entirely healed, and the child was well and happy.—Mrs. J. A. WIEGNER, Slaton, Pa.

I had three little girls who were attacked with obstinate ECZEMA, or Blood Trouble, which at first resembled heat, but soon grew to yellow blisters, some of them quite large. One of the children died from the effects of it, and we got Swift's Specific and gave to the other two, and they soon got well. S. S. S. forced out the poison promptly. The cure was wonderful.—J. D. RAINS, Marietta, La.

S. S. S. has no equal for Children. It relieves the system promptly, and assists nature in developing the child's health. Our Treatise mailed free.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. AKERS, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"The use of 'Castoria' is so universal and its merits so well known that it seems a work of supererogation to endorse it. Few are the intelligent families who do not keep Castoria within easy reach." CARLOS MANTY, D. D., New York City.

"For several years I have recommended your 'Castoria,' and shall always continue to do so as it has invariably produced beneficial results." EDWIN F. PARKER, M. D., "The Winkthrop," 135th Street and 7th Ave., New York City.

FOR SALE AT AUCTION

Police Headquarters.

April 6th, 1892, at 12 O'clock,

Exempt From City Taxes for Three Years.

RARE CHANCE FOR INVESTORS.

Within Three Hundred Feet of Center of City.

MOST REASONABLE TERMS

By direction of Mayor and General Council of the city of Atlanta, the present Police Headquarters will be sold to the highest bidder on Wednesday, the 6th day of April next, at 12 o'clock, on the grounds.

This property is situated in every particular, it lies within three hundred feet of the very heart of Atlanta, on South Pryor street, in close proximity to city hall, chamber of commerce and county courthouses, the union depot and all the principal hotels of the city, and near the large Kaiser building, occupied by the Richmond and Danville Railroad Company as their headquarters. Mr. A. B. Steele will begin the erection of an eight-story marble building just opposite this property in a short while.

The Police Headquarters fronts twenty-six feet on Pryor street, cornering on a fifteen-foot alley, and is one hundred and twenty feet deep to a twelve-foot alley. The building is three stories high with good basement, is first-class in every way, and will bring a good interest on the investment for years to come.

At the same time will be sold a lot 50x70 feet, in the rear of the above described property, in the center of the block.

This piece of property is accessible by a street car, and is well situated for business, and is adaptable to manufacturing or wholesale purposes, and would be a valuable addition to the city of Atlanta. Hunter or Pryor streets.

NOTICE THESE TERMS.
One-fourth cash, balance in one, two and three years, at six per cent interest, payable semi-annually. The property to be exempt from city taxes for the years 1892, 1893 and 1894.

The city reserves the right to occupy said station house building until January 1st, 1893, or until the new Police Station on Decatur street is completed, at a rental not to exceed seven per cent of the purchase price of said building. Immediate possession will be given to the lot 50x70, in the rear of the station house building.

J. G. WOODWARD, Chairman Committee.

H. L. WILSON, Auctioneer

FOR SALE.
The Broomfield Property, Monday, April 4th, at 12 o'clock.

On the premises, the lot is 105.6 on Hunter street and 100 feet on Washington, containing a brick store and 7-room residence. This central real estate is right under the city hall, and is a valuable property. Georgia, is one of the most valuable corners in Atlanta. This locality will grow and enhance in intrinsic value for years to come. No better investment can be made in this city, because in very short time it will be worth one thousand dollars per front foot. Every inch of ground from the Kimball House to the blocks just west of this lot, is one of the most imposing and elegant business houses ever erected in Atlanta will go up this year on the blocks just west of this lot. Now is the time for capitalists to place their funds in this kind of central real estate. The income from this place property improved would support your family most royally.

Steam cars are on one street and electric on the other, every desirable convenience surrounds this valuable place. The state's property on the east, with the wealth, residence and refinement in every direction, forever precludes the idea of buying on this block as cheap in the future as right now.

Then attend this sale at midday, 12 o'clock, April 4th. Terms perfect. Terms, one-third cash, balance 6 and 12 months, 8 per cent interest. H. L. Wilson, Real Estate Agent, 20 Kimball House, Pryor street.
